Dear Sir or Madam,

This is to advise that I am a local Realtor in Kissimmee, Florida. The real estate industry is one of the most competitive industries I have ever experienced.

Realtors obtain their livelihood through real estate sales. Please do not destroy our industry by governing how we do business. We have been very successful for many many years in the real estate industry conducting business in a professional manner and in a competitive way. I strongly encourage that you listen to our over 1.0 million members that is the largest trade organization in the country and let us continue to competitively do business in the future.

Thank you,

Cyn Zellner
